

The Refugee Focus office can be a little tricky to find if you are not familiar with downtown. The physical address is 120 N. Stone, Suite 220R, however, the entrance is actually located on Alameda Street. You will walk down an alley that passes between the Wells Fargo bank and a parking garage. At the back of the parking garage, there is a stairwell that leads up to the Refugee Focus office. There are signs that will point the way. I have attached a map as well.

Also, the best place to park is the uncovered lot on the corner of Alameda and Scott. There is a row of spaces in the northwest corner of the lot that say "Reserved" or "Refugee Focus". If any of them are available, you can park there for free. Otherwise, all other spots in that lot are $5/day. (Take note that Alameda is a one-way street.)
